SYNEX INTERNATIONAL INC.
APPEAL OF HAWKEYE POWER CORPORATION DISMISSED

Synex International Inc. (the “Company”) announces that the British Columbia Court of Appeal in a decision rendered on November 4, 2015 has dismissed the appeal of Hawkeye Power Corporation (“HPC”) in respect of litigation between Sigma Engineering Ltd. (“Sigma”), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, and HPC. HPC originally commenced the litigation in 2010 claiming ownership over 36 water licence applications and related land tenure applications which Sigma was to purchase from the Receiver for Hawkeye Energy Corporation (“HEC”), a related company to HPC.

In July 2014, the Supreme Court of British Columbia dismissed the claim of ownership by HPC and subsequently in December 2014, Sigma completed the purchase from the Receiver for HEC and commenced marketing of the assets for sale to third parties. HPC filed an appeal of the July 2014 decision and that appeal has now been dismissed.

In a News Release dated October 5, 2015, the Company announced that Sigma had entered into two agreements with independent third parties under which it agreed to sell 5 water licence applications. Sigma is continuing to market the remaining 31 water licence applications.

Synex International Inc. is an experienced run of river hydroelectric developer and consultant located in Vancouver, British Columbia. The Company wholly owns or has interests in 12 MW of operating facilities and has applications for water licences and land tenure on over 50 potential hydroelectric sites which are either in various stages of development or are being held for disposition.
