SYNEX INTERNATIONAL INC.
LEAVE TO APPEAL OF HAWKEYE POWER DISMISSED WITH COSTS

Synex International Inc. (the “Company”) announces that the Supreme Court of Canada in a decision rendered on April 21, 2016 has dismissed the application of Hawkeye Power Corporation (“HPC”) for leave to appeal the judgement of the Court of Appeal for British Columbia dated November 4, 2015 in respect of litigation between HPC and Sigma Engineering Ltd. (“Sigma”), a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company. In addition, Sigma is entitled to recover costs from HPC in relation to the application to the Supreme Court of Canada.

HPC originally commenced litigation against Sigma in 2010 claiming ownership over 36 water licence applications and related land tenure applications (the “Applications”) which Sigma was to purchase from the Receiver for Hawkeye Energy Corporation, a related company to HPC. In December 2014, after a favourable decision of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, Sigma completed the purchase of the Applications from the Receiver. Further, on October 5, 2015, the Company announced that Sigma had entered into agreements with independent third parties regarding the sale of 5 of the 36 Applications. Sigma is continuing to market the remaining 31 Applications.

The Company is an experienced run of river hydroelectric developer and consultant located in Vancouver, British Columbia. The Company wholly owns or has interests in 12 MW of operating facilities and has applications for water licences and land tenure on over 50 potential hydroelectric sites which are either in various stages of development or are being held for disposition.
